SIMUZONE SIMULATION GUIDELINES FOR LABOR CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS

The simulation is located at www.simuzone.com . The cost of the simuzone simulation is $28.00 per student. You will be able to login to the simulation and use the contract cost calculator, the discussion forums for each team, and for each company, send email, post offers and counter offers, and obtain all necessary instructions, forms, contracts, and much more.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR REGISTRATION:

1. While in your internet browser logon to www.simuzone.com. I suggest you use IE 8 or Firefox. If using IE 8 you must set compatibility mode under the TOOLS tab to off (Not checked). If you resize your screen and it then appears to be frozen, click on the home tab to clear this problem.
2. Choose “Instructor Registration” from the buttons on the left.

Play LaborForce Contract Negotiation Simulation by SimuZone!

LaborForce is the premier contract negotiation simulation on the internet. It was designed specifically for university Labor Relations coursework. It is a highly competitive student team vs student team event. It will be the talk of the campus.

The classroom is divided into companies. Each company has a management team and a labor team negotiating for specific provisions in a proposed labor contract. Labor and Management negotiate their contracts over a period of time set by the instructor.

The contracts of the labor teams from the several companies are scored against each other. Likewise the management team contracts are scored against each other. One labor team and one management team will prevail and the base scores of the team members of the winning teams will be higher than the base scores of the members of the other teams.

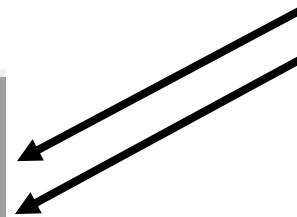

7. Once you have completed the login you will be welcomed to the SimuZone web based simulation page. Please enter the login name and password you selected.
